SHIPPING NOTES.

The Annie Larsen swung about yesterday to discharge through the bow-ports.

The Christine has finished discharging, and taken in ballast. She expects to sail on Saturday.

The Calbarien has moved to the P. M. S. S. wharf to receive some freight.

An ingenious device is employed in discharging the C. O. Whitmore. A rope running from the hold, through the bow-ports, up to a block made fast to the jib-boom, then winding upon the drum of a steam winch, draws out the lumber and drops it on the wharf.

The D. C. Murray is loading.

The hazard will be hauled near the fish-market to-day, to be hove down for repairs.

Schr Kawaiiani brought 700 bags of rice.

Stmr Jas Makee brought 816 bags of sugar, and 726 bags of paddy. She sails to-day at 3 o'clock.

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

Messrs. Hart Bros gave five gallons of ice-cream to the fair.

ONE letter from the fair has come to hand, too late for publication.

MR. KOHM said, on Tuesday evening, that "here working men only exist."

A good account of the cruise of the Hazard appeared in yesterday's Gazette.

WELL-TO-DO Senators, and a petrified body can be found in the supplement.

THE first evening auction sale of Ehlers & Co., will take place on Saturday night.

MR. E. P. ADAMS holds an underwriter's sale, at noon, to-day, of tobacco, hats, etc.

THE method of laying underground telephone cables is explained in the supplement.

THE trustees of the Queen's hospital hold their half-yearly meeting at eleven o'clock this morning.

SOME good manila cheroots and fresh oysters, in tins, can still be obtained from Nolte. Though he has but few, they are not to be sneezed at.

NO MORE will the dulcet sound of Nolte's organ be heard on Fort street, the instrument has gone to Kapiolani Park.

If the Advertiser were frank in the matter of the Mounted Police report, it should acknowledge that it was done brown.

SURPRISE was expressed at the fair because people received change when paying for their purchases. It was all fair at this fair.

LYCAN & Co.'s store will be open every evening till the end of the year. Christmas cards and toys will be sold at cost. 579 1w b.

THE band will not play at Emma Square this evening, as it is engaged to play at the residence of Col. Macfarlane, at Waikiki.

CORRESPONDENT. An etagere is a What? not a bureau. If not, give it up. Pork pies are preferable at this season. The handsomest etagere is on view and for sale at J. H. Bruns, King street.

Lost.

IN EMMA STREET, on Tuesday night, a SMALL LEATHER BAG containing money and an engraved monogram. Finder will be rewarded on returning same to BULLETIN Office. 583 1t

HON. J. MOANALI had arranged to leave, on the Kahu, on Tuesday afternoon, for a weeks trip, with a friend, to Maui. When the steamer left, the funeral procession started from his residence.

Two ad interim reporters were present at the last meeting of the Working Men's Union. Mr. Danielewicz obtained permission to re-present S. F. Truth, and Mr. Cavenagh said that he had been asked to take notes for the Advertiser.

A LARGE holiday sale takes place to day at the auction room of Lyons & Levey. A handsome collection of useful majolica ware will be offered, also field glasses, fancy goods, picnic baskets and the new luminous articles, so that, no matter when and how you get home, you can always find a light.

A MEETING of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday morning, when Hon. C. R. Bishop, Hon. Paul Isenberg, Mr. A. J. Cartwright and Mr. T. H. Davies, were appointed a committee to report upon the recent importation of silver coin, what further supply was expected and what effect it would have upon the country.

At the Police Court yesterday, two Chinamen were remanded on a charge of having opium in their possession. G. Buckley and A. Auld, for disorderly conduct on Monday night, were each sentenced to five days imprisonment at hard labor. Ed. Christopher pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery, and was fined $4.

THE owners of the Calbarien have given the agency of that vessel to Messrs. Hackfeld & Co. The reason is supposed to be, because this company is the only one that can now supply freight to vessels not belonging to the Spreckels line, in consequence of business arrangements recently made by mercantile houses. Other vessels are expected to sail over.

On the petition of Wm. R. Castle, S. B. Dole, and W. O. Smith, filed before the Chief Justice, yesterday, an order has been served on the Minister of Finance, returnable to-day at 1 o'clock, for the Minister of Finance to show cause why a Writ of Mandamus should not be issued to restrain him from issuing bonds for the amount of $130,000 of silver coins received per last steamer. The ground of the complaint being that the bonds are about to be issued below par, the said coin being worth less than their equivalent in U. S. gold coin.

DUNEDIN LIBEL CASE.

In a recent libel case in Dunedin, His Honor, in summing up, said: "If the proprietor of a newspaper is called upon to give up the name of the writer of a letter or article which appears in their paper, and if upon mature consideration they think that the writer has been indulging in personalities that ought not to be indulged in, or has gone beyond the limits of legitimate criticism, I agree with Lord Chief Justice Cockburn, that it is a moral duty on their part to give up the name of the writer. If, however, upon mature consideration, they think that what the writer has written is justifiable, then I agree with the expression of opinion of another learned Judge, Baron Martin, in another case, that the Editor would be little short of mad to give up the name of the writer."—New Zealand Herald.

Frederick Maccabe, the well known ventriloquist, was a great practical joker. Several years ago he was on board a Mississippi River steamboat, and forming an acquaintance with the engineer, was allowed the freedom of the engine-room. He took a seat in a corner, and pulling his hat down over his eyes, appeared to be lost in reverie. Presently a certain part of the machinery began to squeak. The engineer oiled it and went about his usual duties. In the course of a few minutes the squeaking was heard again, and the engineer rushed over, oil-can in hand, to lubricate the same spindle. He again returned to his post; but it was only a few minutes until the same old spindle was squeaking louder than ever. "Great Jupiter!" he yelled, "the thing is bewitched!" More oil was administered, but the engineer began to smell a rat. Pretty soon the spindle squeaked again, and, slipping up behind Maccabe, the engineer squirted a half-pint of oil down the joker's back. "There," he said, "I guess that spindle won't squeak any more." It didn't.
